Rovigo - Vailog starts 44,000 m2 development and pre-leases 22,000 m2

On October 15 2007, Vailog started the construction of a new distribution centre in Rovigo (Italy) for a total of 44,000 m². Rovigo is strategically located to serve the logistics needs of the highly industrialized area of Eastern Italy.

The Rovigo Logistics Park benefits from direct motorway access (Padova – Bologna), a new dedicated exchanger (“Rovigo Sud”) and 300m motorway frontage. Vailog’s new development is adjacent to Ikea’s future distribution center.

Vailog pre-leased 22,000 m² to Italian third-party logistics company BSL S.p.a., already very active in the Padua – Eastern Italy area. The customers served by BSL include primary brands such as Bosch, Prada, Ferrero, Lavazza, ...

Vailog’s new distribution center will be developed with the highest environmental techniques: solar panels, rainwater recycling, low-consuming lighting equipments, etc.

The total investment is approx. EUR 28 million. Vailog has future expansion capacity to build 40,000 m² more in Rovigo.

Vailog is part of RDM Realty group, listed on the Milan “Expandi” Stock-Exchange Market (RLT.MI)
